German All Stars Bangkok host 31st International Far East Football Tournament 2013

The Bangkok-based football club German All Stars will once again welcome hundreds of football enthusiasts from around the world to join the annual International Far East Football Tournament. As it is tradition, the event is organized on the Easter holidays (30th/31st March 2013) and is hence referred to as the Easter Tournament.

This year, the International Far East Football Tournament is being held for the 31st time, marking the long history and tradition since its beginning in 1981. The two-day event has undoubtedly become a tradition in the international football calendar in Thailand, but is also a reason for many visitors from abroad to visit Bangkok.

In total, a record-high of 35 teams and their supporters are expected to travel from literally around the world to participate in the tournament, making it the largest and most renowned international amateur football tournament in the whole South East Asia region. The tournament includes different game types (11-a-side and 7-a-side) as well as different age categories with a separate competition for players above 35. Next to teams from Thailand, the German All Stars will welcome friends from Singapore, China, The Netherlands, Malaysia, France, England, Switzerland, Vietnam and many more. Despite all sporting ambitions, the tournament has become a platform for cultural exchange and a fun time.

Next to some high-quality amateur football, visitors can join free of charge and enjoy a full program of entertainment, live music by the popular Big Boy Band and - most importantly- German culinary delights. With 2-day catering provided by local German restaurants, visitors can look forward to German specialties and German beer throughout the event.

On both days, games will take place from 09.00 until 17.30 followed by a big award party on Sunday evening. The event will take place at Bangkok Patana School on Sukhumvit Soi 105.
